Heavy Loss Reported in Northern Part of County.

MERCURY FALLS

Little Havoc Occurs in East Liverpool District.

CANTON, Ga., March 27.—Five persons are dead and 11 others injured, four probably fatally, in the wake of a tornado which swept Cherokee county, Ga., late last night, according to delayed reports received here today.

Thousands of dollars worth of property damage was caused in Columbus county by a high wind which, accompanying the first lightning and rain storm of the season, swept Ohio last night.

Metal Roof Torn Away.
Damage in the East Liverpool district was slight but in the vicinity of East Palestine buildings were unroofed, barns toppled, trees uprooted and other havoc reported. The mercury dropped from 70 to 28 degrees over night. A light blanket of snow covered the hillsides and outlying sections this morning.

A large section of the metal roof of the Bradshaw avenue bridge connecting the Knowles, Taylor & Knowles company's plants was torn away. Two poles along the Lisbon road just outside of Wellsville were toppled, damaging 12 telephone lines. Scattering cases of telephone trouble from many parts of the city were also reported.

Building Is Unroofed.
There was no interruption in the electric light service although lightning struck high tension lines of the Ohio Power company at downriver points. Street cars maintained regular schedules throughout the evening and no damage to traction company property was reported.

Part of the roof in the building occupied by the Shastee dry goods store, East Palestine, was torn away and rain caused $2,000 damage to stock in the store.

The roof on the structure housing the Bott shoe store in East Palestine was also damaged. One side of the Dodd public garage collapsed under the force of the gale. A barn, the owner of which was not learned, was overturned in the north county town.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE
[The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review.]

BY order of Federal Judge Hough, 258 Ohio families of striking coal miners will be evicted from their miserable shacks on May 1. The weather should be fairly warm by then.

The judge in the case did his duty, probably could not have ruled otherwise. The houses belong to the mine owners, and if they want to fight women and children, as well as the working men, that is their right.

A hundred times within three years this column has warned the public against selling stocks short and against stock gambling. It has been shown that real values are not understood by many, nor do they understand the change in American conditions since the war.

Billions in cash were poured into circulation. Wages were doubled. Men buy stocks, luxuries and speculate with surplus cash.

The great buying power is now the millions of little people, owners of what economists call the "social surplus." That surplus, amounting to at least ten billions a year, ten times one thousand million dollars, the people of all classes TAKE IN over and above what they need to live. They are investing each year ten new billions that they did not have before the war. Every five years that equals the fifty billions that the war cost us.

William Reynolds Escapes From Officer McFarland.

FLEES STATE

Makes Break When Patrolman Calls Police Patrol.

Police today were searching for William Reynolds, who escaped from Patrolman Norman McFarland at 10:30 o'clock Saturday night after he was arrested upon a charge of possessing liquor.

Reynolds was taken into custody in East Sixth street after McFarland says he found him carrying three half pints of moonshine whiskey. The patrolman took the prisoner by the arm and started for the police box at the corner of Broadway and Washington street where he intended to call the patrol.

When McFarland reached for his keys, the prisoner ran down Washington street, turned east in Diamond alley and thence down Broadway. McFarland, wearing an overcoat, was soon outdistanced by the fugitive, who is believed to have fled across the Chester bridge into West Virginia.

GENERAL MOTORS FALLS 19 POINTS

NEW YORK, Mar. 27.—Panic-mum broke loose on the floor of the New York Stock Exchange today when, in a wild flurry of trading, General Motors plunged downward 19 points to 180. This stock had been making a dizzy upward climb for days and had closed yesterday at 198½ after having reached 199, the highest point in its history.

An avalanche of selling orders descended upon the market from all over the country, sending prices of many stocks other than General Motors downward. Declines ranged all the way from five to twelve points in other issues, General Motors taking the longest shoot down the toboggan. Montgomery Ward stock, after opening at 149, slipped back to 141; Chrysler declined from 72½ to 68; Studebaker started at 69½ and moved down to 67; United States Steel, after opening at 150 fell off to 147 and Sears Roebuck dropped from 110 to 101.

JUNKERS PLANE IS READY FOR WESTWARD HOP OVER ATLANTIC

Capt. Koehl and Two Pals Take Off Tomorrow.

REST IN DUBLIN

Delay Jump Because of Fatigue After Berlin Flight.

DUBLIN, March 27.—Surrounded by armed guards in its sealed hangar at the Baldonnel airfield here, the Junkers monoplane "Bremen" stood poised today for a westward hop over the Atlantic. The start will be made at 5 o'clock tomorrow morning with Captain Herman Koehl, Germany's foremost flier, at the controls.

Koehl will be accompanied by Fritz Loose, relief pilot, and Baron Von Huenefeld, financial backer of the flight. Huenefeld will serve as the official observer.

The fliers had intended to take-off on the dangerous and hitherto unaccomplished flight westward at dawn today but they were so fatigued by their flight from Berlin yesterday that they decided to delay their attempt.

Tune Up Plane's Motor.
"I hope to get away by 5 o'clock Wednesday morning," Captain Koehl said last night. "We will head for Newfoundland, and we may land there if weather conditions, and the state of our fuel supply make such a course advisable. But our goal is Mitchell Field, N. Y."

Loose arrived here several days ago with a crew of mechanics to make arrangements for the landing and refueling of the ship. He supplants Arthur Spindler, the mechanic who flew from Berlin with Koehl as relief pilot.

The mechanics tuned up the plane's motor today, overhauling the rest of the ship thoroughly and fitted it with a new type of undercarriage designed by Professor Junkers especially for this flight.

The "Bremen" will carry no radio. Nor will the fliers carry life-belts or (Continued On Page 8, Col. 2)

BOMB WRECKS CHICAGO HOME OF SENATOR

Deneen Blast Followed by Explosion at Swanson Residence.

FEDERAL INQUIRY

No Member of Either Household Was Injured.

WASHINGTON, March 27.—The bombing of the Chicago home of Senator Charles S. Deneen (R) of Illinois, was discussed on the floor of the senate today when Senator Norris (R) of Nebraska, urged the administration to withdraw some of its marines from Nicaragua to protect American property "in the windy city on the lakes."

CHICAGO, March 27.—Federal investigation of the bombings which last night wrecked the homes of United States Senator Charles S. Deneen and Judge John A. Swanson were promised today by United States District Attorney George F. Q. Johnson.

The front porch and a large section of the front of Senator Deneen's palatial two-story residence were demolished by a powerful dynamite bomb, exploded shortly before midnight.

Twenty minutes later a similar blast damaged the home of Judge Swanson, a candidate under the Deneen Republican banner for state's attorney of Cook county. The second blast was believed aimed at Judge Swanson in an effort to assassinate him.

Suspect Murder Plot
No member of either household sustained injuries, but several in the bombed buildings collapsed from shock and were reported today in critical condition.

Senator Deneen was not at home, having departed for Washington after attending the funeral here of "Diamond Joe" Esposito, Deneen's twenty-fifth ward leader who was felled last Wednesday night by 53 slugs from gangsters guns.

Senator Deneen's sister, Miss Florence Deneen, and a maid were alone in the house when the bomb exploded. (Continued On Page Eight, Col. Four)

DRIVER HURT, WAGON WRECKED AND MILK LOST IN RUNAWAY

Golden Star Dairy Horse Frightened by Automobile.

DASH DOWN HILL

John Armstrong Thrown Before Vehicle Hits Pole.

John Armstrong, driver for the Golden Star dairy, was injured, a wagon, valued at $375, wrecked and 90 gallons of milk lost in a runaway in Pennsylvania avenue at 3:30 o'clock this morning. The horse escaped injury.

Armstrong was enroute to East End to make milk deliveries when the horse was frightened by an automobile. The animal started a mad dash down the Pennsylvania avenue hill into East End.

The driver, unable to hold the horse with the reins from the front seat of the wagon, jumped to the street and boarded the wagon from the rear platform. Unable to check the horse's speed, he attempted to pull the animal over to the street car right of way. As the wheels of the wagon struck the car tracks the driver was thrown to the street.

The horse came to a stop when the wagon struck a telephone pole.

The horse, which has been used on the East End route, was "killed" a few days ago after it had been hurt in an accident in the barn. This was the first trip for the animal which had been purchased to take its place.

100 FAMILIES FLEE TO HILLS BEFORE FLOOD SWEEPS HOMES

Feather River Covers 20,000 Acres of Orchard Land.

BURIES TREES

Mountain Streams Inundate Sacramento Valley Town.

YUBA CITY, Cal., March 27.—The Feather river smashed its way through half a mile of levee below here early today, flooded 20,000 acres of orchard land and drove 100 families to the hills.

Whether all escaped or not is unknown. Ten feet of water swirls about the homes vacated.

Ranchers Defeated.
The collapse of the levee spelled defeat after a 48-hour fight by ranchers who labored to stop a leak discovered Sunday night.

The swollen Feather river, swept into the Arboga Peach Orchard district and in less than half an hour had buried the area.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., March 27.—Raging mountain streams, swirling over their banks with the peak load of yesterday's torrential rains, roared down into the Sacramento valley today, isolating Oroville, inundating the town of Biggs and creating a widespread flood zone in that vicinity.

Still mounting as the crest of the flood approached, a surging overflow from the Feather river swept into Biggs, a community of 1,000 people, during the night and had reached a depth of one foot in the business district early this morning.

Surrounding lowlands, including hundreds of acres of fine orchards near Gridley, were flooded, the water reaching a depth of several feet in some sections.

Other Levees Taxed.
The final flood crest was expected to tax levees of the Sacramento river at Knights Landing, where it was estimated the river would come within three feet of flood stage.

Bulwarked behind towering dikes and with the flood gates of its giant by-pass flung wide to divert the new wall of water, Sacramento was declared by N. R. Taylor, government observer, to be in no danger. The great diversion canal, though, is expected to carry more water than the river when the peak reaches this city.

PITTSBURGH BUS OPERATES HERE

NEW ENGLAND RIVERS RISE

Streams are Swollen by Melting Snows and Ice.

MONTPELIER, Vt., March 27.—Flood-torn roads and bridges in New England were again threatened today by the rising of streams and brooks swollen by the melting snows and ice. Because of the high water on the Winooski river, Burlington was almost isolated as completely as during the great floods of last November. The pontoon bridge between that city and Winooski, was removed, the other bridge being closed because of the deep mud on both approaches.

While the water was not reported very high in Montpelier, the city of Barre reported that Potash brook, flooded the business section.

Rochester Man Flees After Fatal Fight

Police Search for Jesse McCarter, Who is Alleged to Have Killed James Clark in Quarrel Over Checker Game.

ROCHESTER, Pa., March 27.—Police today are continuing a search for Jesse McCarter, 40, Rochester Negro, who is alleged to have shot and killed James Clark, also colored, in a quarrel over a checker game in McCarter's home in Rochester, Sunday night. McCarter fled after the shooting. Rochester authorities are reported to be holding a colored man and woman, said to have witnessed the attack, as material witnesses.

In an argument over the crowning of a king in the game, McCarter is alleged to have drawn an automatic revolver and shot Clark through the head, while the latter attempted to defend himself with a pool cue. Both men had been drinking, police said. Search of Clark's clothing revealed a .38 calibre revolver.

IF BACK HURTS BEGIN ON SALTS

Flush Your Kidneys Occasionally by Drinking Quarts of Good Water.

No man or woman can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Too much rich food creates acids which clog the kidney pores so that they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood. Then you get sick. Rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders often come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage, or attended by a sensation of scalding, begin to drink soft water in quantities; also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine.

This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to help neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer cause irritation, thus often relieving bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone can take now and then to help keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby often preventing complications.

East Liverpool — America's Pottery Center.

TUESDAY, MARCH 27, 1928.

Joshua Poole

East Liverpool today mourns the death of Joshua Poole, clay broker, who was for many years identified with the pottery industry in the Ceramic center of America.

Born in the Staffordshire pottery district in England, he became interested at an early age in the industry and made a life study of it. For five years before coming to the United States he was manager of the Belleek China works in Belleek, Ireland. He was general manager of the Knowles, Taylor and Knowles pottery for 18 years, and resigned there to accept a similar place with the Homer Laughlin China company, with which he was associated for 16 years. He was also vice-president of the Edwin M. Knowles China company.

Although 73 years of age at the time of his death, Mr. Poole, who retired in recent years from the active management of pottery plants, had devoted his attention to the clay brokerage business. He was recognized as an authority in the manufacture of china and semi-porcelain.

And not withstanding his many interests, he was active in the Kiwanis club and Masonic lodge affairs and was faithful in church attendances. He was also a willing worker in civic welfare movements.

East Liverpool has suffered a loss in the death of Joshua Poole.

Misused Parole

The Cleveland Association for Criminal Justice has been studying the crimes committed by former offenders during parole or probation periods. In one of its bulletins it cites specifically 172 crimes alleged to have been committed by seven men while they were "enjoying the benefits of the law indulgence for previous crimes."

Murder, housebreaking, robbery, burglary and larceny, shootings, cuttings, automobile thefts and miscellaneous offenses were on the list. Of the seven criminals listed, one was an 18-year-old boy at liberty after a second escape from a reformatory. Two others were 19 years old and committed their crimes while paroled from reformatories. Another man had been pardoned on an automobile theft charge, but proceeded to murder his two children.

Pardon and parole undoubtedly have a legitimate place in any enlightened penal system. But their proper and effective administration calls for very high and special talents on the part of parole officers. An offender who shows signs of positive reform and is on the way toward a balanced and self-respecting attitude toward society surely should be distinguishable from one who is still anti-social at heart and watching his chance to get even with the community that sought his punishment.

Letter Writing Business

A couple of rather fetching young women students at Wellesley college—one from Butler, Pa., and the other from Milwaukee, Wis.—have developed a more or less profitable business among their fellow-students because they possess a flair for letter-writing.

Students at Wellesley, finding themselves short of change and under the necessity of writing home to mother and dad, were at a loss what to say. They could write the letter, of course, but the letter lacked the "punch"—the appeal—to bring desired results.

Casually, and without fanfare, the Misses Margaret Barton and Margaret Lann began writing letters home for their college chums. And lo! The letters not only brought the money quickly, but frequently more than was requested and some times in special delivery envelopes, or by wire.

The fame of these embryo letter-writers spread throughout Wellesley. They were besieged by other students. They were asked to prepare letters for all and sundry occasions—love letters, thank you letters, condolence letters and so on, endlessly. Then they decided to make their proficiency as letter-writers pay them for their time and trouble. It does—handsomely.

The girls have a rate of 25 cents for each thank-you letter; 50 cents for love letters; 75 cents for letters of condolence—and here is where they have shown the brilliance of geniuses—they exact a flat five per cent on letters to father asking for money.

Reckless Driving Lesson

Recently John Yokubones, aged 16 years, driving his automobile through the streets of Muskegon, Mich., ran down and killed Floyd Terry—leaving Terry's two motherless children—Gene, 6, and Paulie, 8—alone in the world.

There is a woman probate judge in Muskegon and she refused to permit prosecution of young Yokubones. But she did impose upon him a most unusual sentence—that he visit his victim's children at least once each two weeks for two years, and that he spend at least $400 of his earnings for their support during this period.

Thus was begun a really unique experiment in justice. The driver of an automobile is to be compelled to contribute to the support of the children left parentless through his carelessness. And is there any reason why such a sentence should not be imposed? Or any reason why it should not prove practicable? It would seem that the woman who imposed this sentence knew precisely what she was doing.

The young man has made his first visit to the children he made fatherless. He saw them at the home of their grandmother—and he took with him toys for them and some clothing. He came away from his visit with a keen desire, as he expressed it, to "do all I can for them."

Perhaps the imposing of similar sentences on careless motorists elsewhere throughout the country would counteract to a great extent the hit-and-kill toll every year. At least this unusual sentence will be watched with considerable attention by judges and the public in general.

Perhaps outsiders have been regarding this Chicago anti-British campaign as something of a joke. But it's getting serious, now that a book has been discovered in the public library, actually autographed by its donor, Queen Victoria, with a message of sympathy from her people because of the fire.

HASKIN DAILY LETTER

By Frederick J. Haskin

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 27.—Traffic authorities and automobile clubs and associations have long been endeavoring to impress upon automobile owners the fact that it is not wise to pick up pedestrians and give them a free ride. Playing the good samaritan in such cases may get a man into a lot of trouble.

In the first place, he may discover that he has picked up extremely undesirable in which motorists have been been numerous instances in which motorists have been been robbed by persons to whom they were giving a lift, and not a few in which the motorists have been assaulted and killed. One case in a southeastern state that attracted wide attention was that in which a mere boy who was picked up by a man and his wife on a rural highway attacked them when the car had reached a lonely spot, killed them both, took all their valuables, dumped the bodies out by the roadside, and sped away with the car.

A less serious possible result of a pick up is that the owner of the car who is doing the friendly turn becomes liable for the safety of his passengers. If he has an accident in which they are injured they may sue him for damages, with a fair chance of getting a judgment, and he is not the less liable if he did not really invite them to ride but merely yielded to their importunities.

Accordingly, while it may be selfish to drive along with empty seats in your car and pass people who would appreciate a ride, it is a kind of selfishness that is justified by reason of its wisdom, and the warning not to pick up strange passengers has become one of the important and big "don'ts" of motordom.

Now a decision of the United States circuit court of appeals in a case originating in Massachusetts indicates another of these "don'ts"—don't drive a car belonging to someone else. You may have an accident and be held responsible for it.

In this case a man named Pepper and his wife were leaving Boston in an automobile owned by the husband to drive to Hartford, Conn., and Pepper invited a friend, Jack Morrill, to accompany them. Pepper drove as far as West Brookfield, where they had dinner, and then upon resuming the trip he asked Morrill to drive, stating that he, Pepper, was tired.

Morrill took the wheel to oblige his friend, but it appeared that he drove a bit recklessly, for there was an accident in which Pepper was killed and Mrs. Pepper badly injured. Later Mrs. Pepper sued Morrill for damages, alleging that he was the agent or servant of the owner of the car and that the accident was caused by his gross negligence in operating the machine, and by the final decision in the case she has a judgment against him for $4000 and costs.

The defense contended that since the plaintiff could not sue her husband, she could not sue a person acting as his agent or servant in driving the car, and that the negligence of the husband was the direct, proximate, and responsible cause of the wife's injury. The court held against the defendant on the first contention upon reviewing the law and precedents.

With respect to the second it held that the defendant was not relieved of his responsibility by any possible negligence of the husband in directing the driver from the back seat.

"Although driving the car at the time as the agent of the husband, he owed the duty to the plaintiff not to drive it so recklessly as to injure her," says the court. "The duty was none the less binding upon him because he was driving the car of her husband and it would have been had he been driving his own car."

"Even if her husband were negligent in calling out to the defendant that he should turn to the left, she had a right of action against the defendant."

Q. Why is New York called Gotham? L. S.

A. The term Gotham is applied to New York satirically. The allusion is to a parish by this name in England noted for the simplicity of its inhabitants, which has passed into a proverb. In the 16th century a collection of stories said to be by Dr. Andrew Borde was made about them including the hymn about the Three Wise Men of Gotham. The term was first used by Washington Irving in Salmagundi in 1807.

ARE YOU A TEMPERAMENTAL LOSER?

Why allow yourself to become angry over losing a card game or a series of games?

The game isn't worth it and you are defeating a pastime.

If you are a well-balanced individual you won't go home in a bad humor because you lost in a contest.

It should not bring annoying thoughts the next day if you lost. There are too many situations of importance in a person's life to spoil succeeding days over recollections of failure at card sessions.

A card game for pleasure is one thing. A card game that has a serious bearing on your spirits is another.

Perhaps you are not willing to give enough serious attention to your playing to be a successful player.

It is unfair to a partner to be careless and too lazy to think.

NEW YORK Day By Day

By O. O. McIntyre.

NEW YORK, March 27.—A New York lecturer opines newspaper columnists have become the modern preachers. "The scientists," he says, "have taken away the people's God and now they turn to the philosophers of the press for spiritual stimulation."

As flattering as that sounds, it isn't correct. The mass of newspaper readers turn from columns with either: "He's a nut!" or "Rather clever, but silly." I do not know of a columnist who has waged a successful campaign for anything.

In the old days the cartoonist used to be effective in stirring enthusiasm for popular reforms—Nast and Daventport for example—but lately the cartoonist's province is chiefly to illuminate a current topic. People are doing a little more thinking for themselves, it seems.

The voice of the newspaper columnist is now at its height. The columnist is granted more liberty than ever. He is often in opposition to the definite policy of his paper. But largely he wears cap and bells and clowns for his clientele.

He often amuses, but I doubt he is ever taken very seriously. And publishers more than anybody realize this. Every New York paper now has one or several local oracles who high dive, flip flop and pose in the manner of the window batter cake juggler.

As one of the guild, I have never noticed one regarding his job with any great pomposity. If he does, he is kidding himself. Newspaper columnists came to journalism in much the same manner vaudeville caught on in the world of the legitimate theatre—it offered variety. Nothing much else.

As long as that variety has spice it will endure and no longer. Almost every columnist is asked how to start a column. The question is difficult. They are spawed by chance and like Popey, just grow. No columnist can give a satisfactory answer as to just how he became a columnist, or how long he will remain one. Any day he may find a new boy occupying his desk.

The most thrilling moment of the theatre this season was in a play dealing with vaudeville life back stage. On a rope stretched from the stage to the top gallery the performer introduced his perilous way over heads of the audience and slid for life to the stage again. This stunt made a wow of a mediocre play.

Several department stores have miniature booths for little rich children. Their nails are done regularly, and then it is presumed they go back to their mud pies.

Morningside Drive is the baby's paradise. In no section of New York are so many babies seen. They are trundled out in their carriages early and often remain in the open until dusk.

It is noticed stage players have not been afflicted with incompatibility—or whatever they call pouting—this season. Not one has stamped his foot and rushed from the theatre with a nose in the air bristling with indignation. Temperament has either gone out of fashion or jobs are not so plentiful and, being the mean-tempered soul we are, we suspect the latter.

Absinthe—frapped or dripped—is on sale in many speakeasies. It is sold at $2 a shot and its popularity lies in its lingering wallop and the fact it only takes one or two to make the drinker "that way." So easy has it become to get the drink, it is reported a number of thrill seekers have become absinthe addicts. No drink creates such a craving or offers such a short and spectacular finish. In the days of the saloon there were even saloon keepers who refused to sell it because of its degrading effects.

A visitor writes to New York newspapers that his objection to the metropolis is that there are no places to sit down. If it continues to worry him, I'll be glad to forward the address of my favorite skating rink. Copyright, 1928, by the McNaught Syndicate, Inc.

YOUR HEALTH

An Ounce of Prevention Is Worth A Pound of Cure.

By Dr. Royal S. Copeland.

This is the last of a series of six articles on the dangerous fads and practices which threaten the happiness and physical welfare of our women folk. I hope they have been read and pondered by all concerned. I pray they may be accepted in the spirit they have been written.

To me the human body is something more precious than the most priceless of gorgeous vases or other handiwork of a great artist. The Supreme Artist planned and perfected the human body. When cared for as it should be, nothing can be more beautiful or more appealing.

Pride, that terrible matter of men's souls, causeth many a person to suffer pain and to endure agonizing experience. For what? To have some part of the body attacked with knife and saw, in order that an offending feature may be remodeled.

Starvation diet abnormal exercises, cruel practices are resorted to for the purpose of overcoming natural tendencies. No sacrifice is too great to make for the sake of slenderness and the "boyish form."

The terrible fate of that Chicago girl should be a warning to every discontented person. Women should consider very soberly the dangers involved in operations for "improving beauty."

My appeal to the women of North America is that they devote themselves to acquiring and preserving health. There is no doubt that the clear skin, the sparkling eyes and elastic muscles of well groomed and animated women mean more, far more, than perfection of individual features.

It is the ensemble that counts. It is the combination, the union of all the features, the general impression—this is what really matters.

I am confident there is a painful lack of knowledge regarding foods, food combination, the simplest rules of hygiene. More than this, there is an almost sinful disinclination to do the things necessary to have glowing health.

One of the greatest reasons for teaching personal hygiene to children is because habits formed in early life will be practiced forever. When the right way of living is a fixed practice, then there is no trouble about having good health. Health is actually a habit, under such conditions.

It is the duty of each of us to learn how to live, how to eat, what to eat, what not to eat. We should know how much water to drink, how many hours to sleep and how much exercise to take.

Knowing these things we should apply them religiously. Then we will have a glorious health. With such health will be the beaming countenance and sparkling eyes that mean far more than absolute perfection of form and feature.

Go to your doctor, not to make an appointment for a heavy operation, but for the purpose of finding out if all your organs are functioning properly. Make sure you are in prime condition and find out what you should do to stay so.

The most magnetic and appealing and winsome woman is the one with flaming health. She will win everything she desires.

Departing Millions of Gold.

During the past ten years, the United States has held the largest accumulations of gold ever got together in the world's history. Events of the war made this accumulation inevitable. As the New York Times well states it: "The flow of gold to the United States in those years was quite in accordance with classical economic theory; the gold was driven out by inferior currencies, and went to the country whose currency was kept at par."

With the whole world under normal political and financial conditions, the supply of gold would distribute itself among the different countries in approximately the proportions required to perform satisfactorily its modern functions in the stabilization of currencies and in business. Such a distribution is best for all concerned.

We need feel no anxiety, therefore, about the recent movement of gold away from the United States. The export of $280,000,000 within the past six months would have seemed excessive if it had occurred in the pre-war period, because it would then have been a far larger proportion of our entire holdings. At present, it leaves us still with more than two-fifths of the world's entire stock of free gold, and the federal reserve banks still hold an amount far in excess of the minimum reserve required by the law.

The same economic causes which are now taking gold away from this country to the countries of Europe and Spanish America will stop the flow before it reaches the point where it could do us any harm, and we shall gain by the more stable conditions which these gold exports will produce in the countries with which we trade.—Columbus Dispatch.

Words of the Wise

No liberal man would impute a charge of unsteadiness to another for having changed his opinion.—Cicero.

Glasses that are cracked are soon broken. Such is man's good name—once tainted with just reproach.—Hall.

Little sins make room for great, and one bring in all.—Edwards.

Every man is valued in this world as he shows by his conduct that he wishes to be valued.—La Bruyere.

The sincere alone can recognize sincerity.—Carlyle.

Speak the language of the company you are in; speak it purely, and unadorned with any other.—Chesterfield.

Railery is a discourse in favor of one's wit, against one's good nature.—Montesquieu.

Avoid greatness; in a cottage there may be found more real happiness than kings or their favorites enjoy in palaces.—Horace.

We ought to be thankful to nature for having made those things which are necessary easy to be discovered; while other things that are difficult to be known are not necessary.—Epictetus.

Priceless Possessions

One Siamese Twin Ill When Sister is Well

Daisy and Violet Hilton,
Now at Ceramic, are Distinct in Bodily Effects.

People have wondered about the San Antonio "Siamese Twins" in regard to such matters as sickness, ill humor, gladness and excitement. Is there a connection of mind as well as of matter that makes every alien influence on one body communicate itself to the other?

In practically all things that concern bodily effects, Daisy and Violet Hilton, now at the Ceramic theatre, are as distinct as any other two people. The nervous connections in the strip between them are not immediate but casual; there is no absolute juncture of their spinal cords or central nervous systems.

For instance, if you prick your hand the stimulus of pain instantly travels to the brain. If Daisy Hilton pricks her hand the stimulus travels to her brain, but Violet may be totally un-ware that anything had happened. This same rule applies to all the senses, seeing, hearing, tasting, smelling and, with some exceptions, to feeling. The exceptions are in very unusual cases. It must not be forgotten that in the connecting link there are some nerves. And it seems that if one of the girls has a very prolonged nervous stimulus, such as a steady headache for hours and hours, this is gradually communicated to the other. Perhaps, the headache is not communicated through the nerves at all, but may be due to prolonged inactivity lying beside the sufferer or to suggestion. While certainly cannot be expressed as to this, the evidence seems to indicate that there is some nervous connection between the twins but that it is not a very immediate one.

That is why one can have a tooth extracted and the other not be concerned; one can have indigestion and the other who ate less for dinner will feel all right. In ordinary matters any mental or physical condition of one will not be communicated to the other.

However, it must be remembered

HEALTH HINTS

For Parents

What mother would give her ten-year-old daughter a drink of whiskey for a cold? Then don't drug your children when their bowels are out of order!

Investigate the remarkable properties of fig syrup, mother! It is a purely vegetable product that leads a boy or girl out of constipation, and away from all need of cathartics. California Fig Syrup is, in fact, a most marvelous body-builder. A wan, pale girl whose organs are quickened by this delicious, fruity syrup will amaze you by her easier and harder play—in only a couple of weeks! Or your boy will start to fill-out and take on heightened color in the same time! And a million mothers know what a few drops of fig syrup do for an ailing infant.

California Fig Syrup is utterly harmless, of course. The one need for caution is to get the real California product. Say "California" and get the genuine; the generous bottle is only sixty cents at all dealers. So it isn't expensive!

Try California Fig Syrup two weeks on any child, and let his altered appearance and actions tell the full story!

that there is a major artery in the strip joining the two girls, and blood circulates freely between them. Consequently any contagious disease, or one which is caused by micro-organisms in the blood is practically certain to affect both of the twins. So far the twins have never had any serious sickness, so it cannot be said positively that a severe illness would be mutual. But their physiological make-up seems to indicate that this would be the case.

India's Beauty Parlor Toilette Specialists

Most Modern Methods Used to Beautify Milady for Weddings, Graduation and Other Special Occasions.

Memories, as sweet, as rare, as elusive as the delicate, enchanting aroma of a rose in June—happy memories that linger on for years and years, marking the golden days of graduation, the wedding, stand out as jewels in the life setting of the average girl as diamonds in their base of costly platinum.

The graduation, the wedding, never-to-be-forgotten events! And next to the day on which the nuptial vows are taken, the graduation is perhaps the most beautiful.

A jewel here and there in the ensemble, sweetly scented flowers, a chic little hat, dresses, shoes—they are all important items, necessary items to make this day complete, but not all!

To these must be added poise, personality, freedom, knowing that every detail of the toilette is above reproach, to top off a consummate success. And to this extent India's Beauty Shoppe, 124 East Fourth street, offers its fullest in service, courteous advice and utmost skill in the culture of beauty.

The graduate's hands—they have been carefully manicured, even bleached, if a bleach has been necessary. She may look at her hands and all the world, even, may gaze with admiration. They are perfect. In this, India's Beauty Shoppe excels as in all else, and in this special item, it is worthwhile to note, Indianola Porter, in charge, extends the service of the establishment to include a free manicure with any other work done in the shoppe. It is important that hands must be beautiful.

Facial care, too, is of untold benefit. It will be found nerve resting and muscle-restoring after the brisk, rash winds of March, with clay pack to draw all impurities to the surface that creams may then do their part in removing each tiny defect. At so small expense, this phase of beauty curriculum is of untold advantage.

And a permanent—Truly this is a master stroke. The permanent must be a thing of beauty, the envy of those who see it. And its owner then will be able to let her hair take care of itself while she enjoys to the fullest the pleasures of the occasion. Above all things she cannot afford to be self-conscious. Not blessed, perhaps, with naturally luxuriant wavy hair, beauty is possible and really procurable in a permanent at the India Beauty Shoppe. Gorgeous, more than stunning, they remain in the hair until the barber has sheared off the last curl. They are, in truth, permanent, and this shoppe is very proud of its work.

The India Shoppe uses only modern and latest methods and the best of supplies. The personal attention of Indianola Porter, proprietress, is available for early appointments. The shoppe promises every comfort and convenience for the customer's personal satisfaction through cleanliness, promptness, courtesy and service.

The India Shoppe is located at 124 East Fourth street, over Kass's shoe store. The phone number is 1917 and the hours from 9 a. m. to 10 p. m. with the exception of Thursday when the shoppe is closed.

Do Unto Your Hands as You Would Have Them Do Unto You
By Edna Wallace Hopper.
How many times it is said that a woman's hands betray her age. If this is true, start right now the pleasant game of betraying your hands. The real truth behind the saying is that your hands will be kind to you if you show them a little consideration. It is simple. I know that my hands have responded marvelously to it. Every time I wash them, in my theater dressing room or at the hotel, I promptly counteract the effect of soap and water by rubbing on briskly my Youth Hand Lotion.
This is a wonderful treat to the skin. Even the first application will show you. Your skin will absorb the lotion as quickly as a plant consumes moisture after the rainfall. It leaves your hands smooth and dry, and you can put on gloves immediately after using. Soft, white, lovely hands will be yours. You will realize how much your skin needs this soothing attention.
Always keep a bottle on your dressing table or bath room shelf. And most of all you need one where you work—whether your daily tasks are in the home or elsewhere.

Edna Wallace Hopper as she looks today

William Herron Faces Court in Girl's Death.

ADMITS CRIME Alleged Viola May Was Attacked and Choked.

NEW PHILADELPHIA, O., March 27.—Further developments in the prosecution of William Herron, accused of murdering his sister-in-law, Viola May, whose body was recovered from the Tuscarawas river yesterday, will await the next meeting of the county grand jury, March 29, it was learned today.

Herron was not arraigned today and the Tuscarawas county prosecutor announced he would recall the grand jury March 29 to investigate the charges.

DOVER, O., March 27.—Murder charges pending against William Herron, New Philadelphia, were to be heard today, following the discovery of the body of Miss Viola May, 23, in the Tuscarawas river, late yesterday. The girl had been missing since February 7. Her body was found lodged in a tree where the river skirts the industrial section of the town.

According to a confession reported to have been made by Herron the day after the girl's disappearance, she was choked to death by him after an attack upon her. Herron who was her brother-in-law, at first reported that he and the girl had been attacked by robbers, but later told authorities he threw her body into the river when he learned she was dead.

Herron was accompanying the girl to her residence from his home on the night of Feb. 7 after she had visited her sister, Herron's wife.

Printed on superior paper making possible colored prints the illustrations of the magazine stand out.

Cognizance of the gift was officially taken at a recent meeting of the library trustees who passed a resolution of appreciation and thanks which have been forwarded to Mr. O'Gorman.

From time to time as the years go on the volumes, it is believed, will be freely consulted for facts preserved in them.

U. S. NECKTIES WORN IN CONGO

WASHINGTON, March 27.—American neckties are being worn this year by the well dressed man in the Congo.

United States garters and suspenders are the loud wows in Greece, Nicaragua is in the market for colored shirts with collars to match, to sell up to four dollars. American hats rule in Bolivia, and American styles rule the collar trade in Venezuela.

American garters also have a firm grip on the Venezuela market.

other emergency safety devices, for every bit of space has been utilized for fuel tanks.

"My life's ambition is to fly across the Atlantic and I am going to fulfill it," Captain Koehl declared, "I am confident we will make it with a little luck."

Rated as Cool Flier.

With its hop-off shrouded in mystery, the plane left from Templehof airfield, Berlin, at 8 o'clock yesterday morning and arrived here nine hours and ten minutes later.

Captain Koehl attempted to conquer the Atlantic in a westward flight last year but was forced to give up the attempt because of terrific headwinds. He is rated as a cool, capable flier of the first water and has been planning the present attempt since his failure last year. He is said to be far from foolhardy and very likely to return even after he starts if weather conditions enroute do not meet with his approval.

Koehl's plane has a fuel capacity which is said to be sufficient to keep it aloft from 35 to 40 hours. It is powered with a motor of the same type as that which now holds the world's record for endurance flying.

BATAVIA MAN ON TAX BOARD

Secretary H. C. Reed Succeeds Judge J. R. Cassidy.

COLUMBUS, O., March 27.—H. C. Reed, Batavia, today was preparing to relinquish his duties as secretary of the state tax commission and become a member of the commission on April 1.

Governor Vincent Donahue late yesterday announced his appointment of Reed to succeed Judge John R. Cassidy, Bellefontaine resigned for the term ending in February, 1929. Cassidy and Reed are Democrats.

Appointment of Reed's successor as secretary of the commission has not been made. Reed became secretary last year after having been a tax accountant for the commission since 1923.

Falls Dead On Auto

COLUMBUS, O., March 27.—When John Jones, 60, dropped dead here today, his body fell on the running board of a passing auto driven by E. R. Barnes. Barnes took Jones to a hospital where physicians said he had died after a heart attack.

Some of the billions go into motors, new, better houses, radio, talking machines, electric washers and sweepers, better living conditions of a hundred kinds.

And some of it, very wisely, is invested in good American securities, on a sound INVESTMENT BASIS, not on a speculative basis.

But, HERE IS THE DANGER, constantly growing more acute. Millions have got the stock gambling fever. And many that are counting "paper profits" will be bankrupt when the dust settles.

Secretary Mellon, in honor of his birthday, took two working hours off, stopping work at four, instead of six p. m., according to the New York Times.

Of Mr. Mellon, past seventy, some admirers say, "What a pity he is too old for the presidency."

Why too old? If he is young enough to run the financial affairs of this nation, he is not too old to be president. Are sound judgment and long experience of no consequence? Is there no difference in men's staying and thinking powers?

This writer has seen Gladstone, nearly eighty, making his fight for Home Rule, in the house of commons at 3 o'clock in the morning, full of fire and energy. Nobody suggested that he was too old to lead his party.

Are we inferior in stamina to the British? Must we admit that American men fade away in their prime, like savage women, prematurely married, old at thirty?

A young gentleman bought for 340,000 a Stock Exchange seat that his father once bought for $5,000. In both cases, a bargain. If you have brains a Stock Exchange seat is a gold mine. Some brokers lack brains and don't know enough to let the fools gamble, while they collect commissions.

Partners in big brokerage houses must solemnly promise not to gamble. That ought to warn the lamb. It won't.

"Big Steel" has cut one dollar a ton off the cost of manufacturing. The late Judge Gary said to this writer, who quoted him, in print, years ago, "When you buy other steel stocks, remember that United States Steel, if it chooses, can sell steel at a profit for less than it costs competitors to produce it."

Two Men Arrested In Pay Check Plot

Suspects in Alleged Plan to Counterfeit Youngstown Vouchers Face Court.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., March 27.—Glenn K. Elliott and Charles P. Kelley, who had been held in connection with an alleged attempt to counterfeit Youngstown Sheet and Tube company pay roll checks, were released from custody today, when it was revealed they had worked as secret service men in behalf of the company.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., March 27.—Charles P. Kelley, Youngstown, and Glenn K. Elliott, of Struthers, today were being held for investigation by Mahoning county detectives, who expressed the belief that arrest of the pair had foiled a plot to counterfeit $50,000 worth of Youngstown Sheet and Tube company pay checks.

According to Samuel S. Doty, photographer for a local newspaper, he was approached by the two men, members of the tube company's police force, with a proposal that he make checks, for which, Doty said, he was promised $20,000.

Instead, Doty, co-operating with his employers, Sheet and Tube officials, the county prosecutor and detectives, planted a dictograph and a stenographer in a studio "dark room" which resulted in Kelley and Elliott being taken into custody.

Bombs Wreck Homes

Judge Swanson had just parked his car in front of his home and had started toward the entrance when the second blast went off. The bomb was hurled by men who sped past the house in an automobile. Judge Swanson declared he is convinced the bomb was intended for him. It struck the house and bounded back into the yard where it exploded. Damage to his house was estimated at $1,000.

In the home at the time were his wife and two small children and their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Kline.

Blame Political Feud.

The bomb outrages are attributed to the bitter political feud between Illinois Republican factions headed on one side by Senator Deneen and on the other by Governor Len Small. Mayor William Hale Thompson of Chicago, State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe.

As soon as he learned of the bombings State's Attorney Crowe announced a reward of $10,000 would be paid for information leading to the arrest and conviction of those responsible.

In a formal statement, Crowe declared it was his belief that the bombings were done by leaders in the Deneen organization and by the same gang responsible for similar attacks several weeks ago on the homes of Rev. Elmer L. Williams and Anthony Czarniecki.

Guard Deneen Leaders.

Sentator Deneen was informed of the bombing while aboard the train carrying him to Washington. The message assured him of the safety of his sister. He promised a statement upon his arrival in Washington where Mrs. Deneen and other members of his family are awaiting him.

In promising the federal investigation, District Attorney Johnson said: "Inasmuch as Senator Deneen's residence is the official home of an officer of the United States, I shall take my office to investigate the outrage."

Today the home of every Deneen leader in the city was placed under heavy guard. Plain clothes men were stationed on the premises and detective bureau squads patrolled neighborhood streets.

Sentator Deneen's son, Charles Ashley Deneen, visited his father's home when he learned of the bombing, but refused to issue any statement. He estimated the damage at "several thousand dollars."

BOMBS AIMED AT POLITICIANS

CHICAGO, March 27.—Blasts which rocked the home of United States Senator Charles S. Deneen and Judge John A. Swanson, candidate for the office of state's attorney, were the fifth and sixth aimed at the politicians here in the last two months.

2—Dr. William H. Reid, South Side Republican leader.

3—Judge John S. Shabaro of the municipal court.

NORTHAMPTON, Mass., March 27.—Mrs. Calvin Coolidge, wife of the president, was at the bedside of her mother, Mrs. Lemira Goodhue, 78, today.

The stricken mother at Dickinson-Coolidge hospital seemed cheered by the early morning visit of her daughter, who hastened here from Washington.

Mrs. Coolidge was at the bedside of her mother from 1:45 a. m. to 2:45 a. m.

Mrs. Goodhue recognized Mrs. Coolidge and the two conversed for a few moments. The rest of the time Mrs. Coolidge sat by her mother's bedside with her friend, Mrs. Rufus B. Hill, who accompanied her from Washington.

Gov. AL SMITH REBUKES NYE

ALLBANY, N. Y., March 27.—Governor Al Smith today, for the second time, had thrown down the gauge of battle to United States Senator Gerald P. Nye for bringing his name into the oil scandal.

In the second sharp retort which he has sent to Senator Nye in the last ten days, the governor bluntly told the chairman of the Teapot Dome committee that he should have apologized instead of resorting to a trade of abuse for the alleged attempt to link him (Smith) with the oil scandal.

"It is an insult to the public intelligence for you to suggest that in order for you to accomplish the proper purposes of a senate committee, it is necessary for me to submit without resentment to a false and unjust statement from you," the governor wrote Senator Nye.

Dr. Broomfield Speaks At Pre-Easter Meet

Pittsburgh Conference President Occupies Pulpit of Methodist Protestant Church Here.

"I am here to interest you in not being satisfied with your present knowledge of Jesus Christ," declared Dr. J. C. Broomfield, of Pittsburgh, president of the Pittsburgh conference of the Methodist Protestant church, at the outset of the third week of the pre-Easter revival service in the First Methodist Protestant church here last evening. His subject was "The Abundant Life."

In charge of some 70 churches of his denomination and one of the outstanding figures in it, he eloquently pleaded for a spiritual development that shall transcend progress by churchmen in physical and intellectual departures.

"It is not enough to be merely saved," he affirmed. "You, beginning a new life by conversion, must grow along Christly ideals until in you is created a holy conception that will realize his earthly program and cause you to take part in it. Thus you will pass beyond the conjunction of an ordinary existence, and as He did, live yourself the abundant life."

Bulwarking the distinctive discourse of Rev. Mr. Broomfield, who, during and following his present executive position with his church, has been one of the American speakers at the annual Bible conference directed by Dr. W. E. Biederwolf at Winona Lake, Ind., was a solo by Rev. H. A. Guiter, of North Broomfield, Ohio, who thrilled his hearers with the hymn, "I Would Not Miss It," by Bessie Hatcher.

Rev. Guiter Guest

Having just concluded an engagement at the Salineville Methodist Episcopal church, Rev. Mr. Guiter spent the evening as the guest of Rev. George C. Westlake, pastor of the Pennsylvania Avenue M. E. church here. The latter, himself a singer of ability, directed the congregational singing preceding the sermon. The service was presided over by Rev. John F. Dimit, the pastor and a former college associate of Rev. Mr. Broomfield at Adrian, Mich.

The invocation was made by Rev. A. H. O'Brien, pastor of the First Baptist church and the benediction given by Dr. Warren Hawkins, pastor of the First M. E. church.

A duet was sung by Misses Sarah Hargraves and Mary Marshall, accompanied by Miss Mary Eva Carroll. The latter also acted as organist during the night's services.

Reduce the Acid

In sick stomachs—instantly

Sick stomachs, sour stomachs and indigestion usually mean excess acid. The stomach nerves are over stimulated. Too much acid makes the stomach and intestines sour.

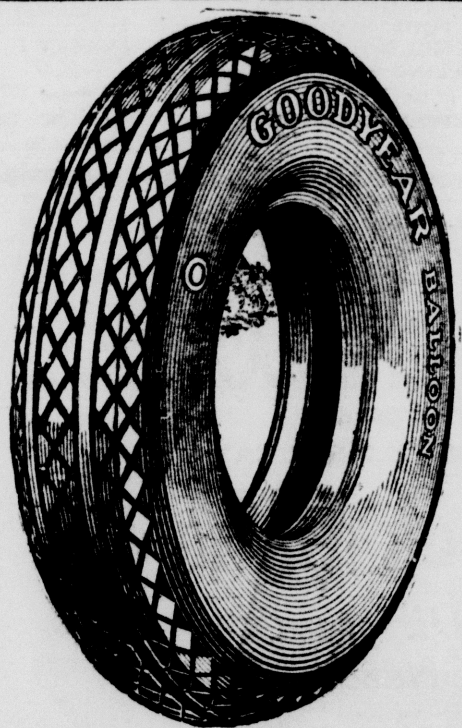

Alkali kills acid instantly. The best form is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia, because one harmless, tasteless dose neutralizes many times its volume in acid. Since its invention, 50 years ago, it has remained the standard with physicians everywhere.

Take a spoonful in water and your unhappy condition will probably end in five minutes. Then you will always know what to do. Crude and harmful methods will never appeal to you. Go prove this for your own sake. It may save a great many disagreeable hours.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 25 cents and 50c a bottle—any drugstore.

"Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875.

Mount And Wooster Stars Line Up For Cage Tournament Here

Collegiates Add Color To Third Annual Meet

Purple Varsity, Winner of Sebring Tournament, Intact for Local Contests; Blough Bringing Zarlengo Fruits.

The Ohio conference basketball season, at least for a number of the Buckeye Collegiate loop entries, will be extended to take in the third annual Tri-State district tournament here Friday and Saturday, not by formal action of the conference of course but by individual squads themselves, notably Mount Union and Wooster.

Appearing under various nom. de. plumes, advertising this and the other firm here and there, but, withal, the same individuals who battled for college glory over the state circuit the past season, there will be in all likelihood, a number of these teams in action here during the week-end, and fans are looking forward, especially, to a clash between Mount and Wooster, if the pairings favor such an event.

Registrar C. E. Greenawalt has received entries from both the Lex Sandwich Shoppe five and the Zarlengo Fruits.

On the roster of the Sandwich Shoppe quint are found such names as Glenwright, Myers, Burke, Ball and Shaffer which, it seems, are the names that Mount Union college gives the scorekeeper for its college contests.

The Zarlengo Fruits are entering D. Query, W. Query, Kallio, Joliff, Mariz, Beeler, Ewing and Olson, with the name of one Pete Blough appended on the official entry blank as coach, and it would be impossible to connect these names with any place but Wooster.

Blough was one of the outstanding performers of the tournament last year and his work was chiefly responsible for the fact that the Zarlengo Fruits went to the final with Tony Paulsey's Campbell Merchants.

These are two of the outstanding entries in this year's tourney, and there are more teams of the "outstanding" class this year than in the two former tournaments here.

A new "long distance" record is established with the entry of the Oxford A. C., from Oxford, near Cincinnati. The Oxford combine is made up largely of Miami university men.

The roster included Harry Edwards, manager; James Perry, coach; Mervin Wolfe, George Moore and Harold Clouser, forwards; Harold Lewis and Harry Richardson, centers; William Gorie, Lee Hineman and Harry Edwards, guards.

But the collegiates won't hog the spotlight entirely, judging from some of the entries that have been coming in from the ranks of the independents.

Take, for instance, the Clarksburg Generals, backed by the McDonald Tire and Battery company. This aggregation, while composed largely of former Salem college stars, has been operating in the independent circuit very successfully in recent years and unquestionably will set a hot pace here. They've already won two district tournaments in West Virginia this year and, it will be recalled, they copped one of the important events there last spring.

Ray Titchenal, manager, submits the following eligibility list: Brady Simms, captain; Dorsey Himes, Sam Bow and John Rice, forwards; Harry Winter and Dave Baxter, centers; Walter Floriana and Edward Vincent, guards.

Entries close tonight at midnight, but entry letters postmarked prior to

MOUNT UNION STARS TO PLAY IN TOURNNEY

Clarence Burke, selected most valuable man in the recent Sebring cage tourney (left) and Myers, team mate on the Mt. Union college five, both of whom will be seen here with the Mounters.

M'Graw Drives His Squad at Spartan Pace

Players Work Harder Than They Have for Years.

NEW YORK, March 21.—It is apparent to all who have visited the training camp of the New York Giants at Augusta that John J. McGraw is about to make the supreme effort of his career in the 1928 National League pennant race. McGraw, they say is driving his present squad harder than he has any other since those dear, dead days at Marlin, Tex., when he had those hard boiled squads of his and the only diversion in town was work.

McGraw tipped his hand this year well before the active training season started when he appeared at Hot Springs in order to take charge of the early conditioning of his batterymen. Baseball entered little, if at all, into the scheme of things there.

At Hot Springs. All the boys were expected to do was to take the baths, eat sparingly, sleep according to the clock, and climb those mountain trails in order to strengthen their legs and wind.

John want to be there to see that they did so. It isn't necessary to add that they did. Ball players from other clubs were there, amusing themselves as pleased their fancy but it was the Spartan life for the Giants from first to last.

McGraw also had Melvin Ott at the Springs in order to try him out at second base. He gave Melvin much of his attention and possibly a piece of his mind, from time to time.

At the Augusta camp, John has been sitting right on top of the situation all the time, rushing out to the box in the middle of a practice game to tip some young pitcher to something or to one of the bases in order to complain, at first hand, to some player who had just been found guilty of bad base running.

He spent hours at the plate bunting to his pitchers. And it might be mentioned that McGraw can still drop a ball just about any place he selects. However, the old boy is getting along in years and, after hours of this sort of thing, he is more weary than the young men he has been chasing around.

Likes to Win. To those close to him, it is no secret that successive failures since 1924 have bitten deeply under McGraw's skin. No man in the game likes to win more than John does and he had set his heart on turning up another champion on the occasion of his twenty-fifth anniversary as a manager. He thought, too, that Hornsby would make him win last year but apparently it wasn't in the deck.

So, once again, McGraw is in there giving the thing the old college try, far from satisfied that his days as a winning manager are over.

LUQUE TO FACE YANKEES TODAY

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 27.—Adolfo Luque, Cincinnati's Cuban perfecto, will throw a few choice curves at the New York Yankees here today.

Manager Huggins announced that Walter Hoyt would pitch the opening game of the season against the Athletics. Hoyt, Pennock and Moore were given a terrific lacing by the St. Louis Cardinals here yesterday, 9 to 3. Ruth and Gehrig got two hits apiece.

Major League Managers Strike Optimistic Chords As They Sing of New-Found Stars

'Cuyler Great', is Theme of McCarthy Lyric; 'Adams Wonderful', Chant Pirates in Return.

By Davis J. Walsh.

NEW YORK, March 27.—It is noted today with sincere regret that nobody sees any reason to disapprove of himself over the series of off-season deals perpetrated by the major leagues this year. This will leave some of us absolutely at our wits' end and may be we didn't alter the fact that the situation places the writer in a very abashed position. After all, there is nothing like a good cry for real enjoyment and it is painful to admit that pessimism can't be enjoyed at this time on anything like a large scale.

No sooner, for example, did the Chicago Cubs sponsor statistics to prove that Hazen Cuyler was running wild as a hitter and outfielder in their California camp than the Pittsburgh Pirates countered with some data on "Sparky" Adams, who is exhibit B in this transaction.

Adams, according to available figures, hit .556 through the first two weeks of Pittsburgh's exhibition games, accepted 41 chances without an error and altogether looked the part of the best second baseman the Pirates have had since Maranville's departure. Their story is that somebody may have made a big mistake on this deal, but it wasn't Pittsburgh.

That's John McGraw's story, too, about the Hornsby matter. Hogan and Welsh are beginning to impersonate ball players, Cohen seems to be acceptable as a second baseman, John says everything is just dandy and maybe it is, at that, the Giants impressed rival clubs they have faced in the south. Hornsby hasn't been hitting for the Braves but the latter are worrying like a man with nothing on his mind except a freshman cap.

It is a bit early for anyone to pass judgment on the recent Bell-High trade and, therefore, all concerned naturally are tickled inarticulate. The Grimes-Aldridge matter, however, is something else, since to date the Giants have obtained nothing beyond a holdout. John probably would like to claim a break here somewhere but just doesn't know where to begin.

This rally is the only enjoyable factor in the entire situation as the Dodgers declare that Dave Boncroft has made their infield and Stanley Harris wishes to announce that he has an unlimited number of $15,000 commissions to hand over for a few more Sisslers. The latter is hitting well and has added speed to the Senators' base running game.

Dan Howley also states that he would have no specific objection to making any number of trades like the one that got him Blue and Manush. The latter injured himself last winter and is not in the lineup at the moment, so maybe what Daniel really likes about him is the way he slides along the bench. McNeely, obtained from Washington, likewise is hailed as a satisfactory addition.

The Detroit end of the Manush-Blue deal also is cheering heavily about Harry Rice, who seems to be going very well for the Tigers. Quite so, Arbutnot; there is simply no chance right now to look on the dark side of things and I'm all broken up about it.

Edwards Lengthens Victory String With K. O. Over Covert

Referee Watson Stops Scrap in Third Round

Sig Keppen Carries Fight to Teddy Welsh in Final; Porto Shades Sweeney; Rose and Anthony Draw.

Freddie Edwards, the likeable, unassuming Chester lad who has made himself a great favorite with East Liverpool district fight fans in the past few months, last night hung up his fourth consecutive win in the F. O. E. ring, stopping Jack Covert, ex-army boxer, after two minutes of glove flinging in the third round of their scheduled four round battle.

Edwards had the edge all the way. He led at the bell and rocked Covert with a straight left. Covert came back to pummel Edwards into the ropes and they both slugged in lively fashion.

Covert missed a long swing and Edwards sent Covert to the mat with a right cross to the jaw. Covert, however, was not badly damaged by the blow and was up at the count of four.

Temporarily off balance he ran into another of Edwards' right hooks and stayed down for nine, the bell ringing on the ninth fall of the referee's arm.

Both came out fast in the second. Covert ran Edwards into the ropes at the outset and the middle strand gave way. Referee Al Watson, of Beaver Falls, stopped the scrap, while temporary repairs were made. This completed, the pair of pug resumed their feud where they had left off. Covert rapped Edwards rather lively in a session of infighting but the Chester youth came back with one of those powerful rights of his and Covert sank to the mat again, taking nine.

Covert was out vigorously for the third, but Edwards jabbed to his face repeatedly. Edwards rocked Covert into the ropes with rights and lefts and the latter slipped off to the canvass. The referee ended the scrap here.

Covert put up a game battle all the way and, in a boxing sense, might have outpointed the West Virginian.

The Edwards-Covert scrap was just one of a series of good bouts that marked the card all the way. Sig Keppen and Teddy Welsh, who performed here on one other occasion, traded swats in the eight-round final. Keppen was called in to substitute for Steve O'Malley, Bellaire, who yesterday injured a hand, according to a telegram received by fight promoters here, and, consequently, was unable to fill the engagement.

The main bout participants fought each other to a stand-off, and if Queensbury devotees demand a decision after the high grade performance turned in by the two punchers, the constant aggressiveness of Sig Keppen must be considered and, probably, rated a point or so ahead of Welsh's flashes of boxing form.

In Pennsylvania rings, Keppen would have carried the verdict without question just because of this aggressiveness. He was out at the top of the going in virtually every one of the eight rounds, sticking his left at Welsh's head.

Neither was damaged in the eight rounds of milling, hardly more than breathing strenuously when the going clanged for the last time. There were no knockdowns, no rocking, damaging onslaughts to mark the superiority for either one or the other. And nothing of the kind could hardly be expected in view of the fitness and obvious well-matched ability of the pair.

Welsh was rated at 138 pounds and Keppen at 142 for this scrap. Keppen displayed a lot more speed and agility than he did in his other fight with Welsh here in the opening round.

They fought on even terms in the second and third. Welsh took the fourth largely on account of his superior boxing and several decisive blows to Keppen's face.

They drew in the fifth, but Keppen carried honors in the sixth. Welsh's mouth was bleeding profusely. After a lively scrimmage in mid-ring, Keppen cut loose with a flock of rights and lefts that drove the McKeesporter to the strands.

There was little to choose between them in the seventh and eighth.

Frankie Porto, McKeesport, 124, earned a shade over K. O. Sweeney, Mingo Junction, in the six-round semifinal, carrying off honors in the first and fifth rounds. Sweeney was given the third and the others were draws.

It was a good boxing exhibition all the way, neither suffering from blows inflicted by the other.

Ive Anthony, Youngstown, and Battling Rose, East Liverpool, went four rounds to a draw in the opening scrap on the card.

ROUSH RANGS THREE DOUBLES

AUGUSTA, Ga., March 27.—Eddie Roush, who reported to the New York Giants early this year for a change, has found his batting eye. The veteran collected three doubles in as many times at bat as the Giants handed the Red Sox a 7 to 1 beating here yesterday. Cantwell and Barnes pitched for the winners.

Catholic Passers Top Foes

Beat Presbyterians for Midland Cage Title.

MIDLAND, Pa., March 27.—Staging a strong come-back in the second period, Catholic passers last night became champs of the Steel City church league by defeating Presbyterian quint, 22-16.

As a result of their victory last night in the final of the three-game play-off series with Presbyterian cagers, the Catholic five will be awarded a cup trophy and individual medals. Members of the Presentation church will probably give a banquet this week in honor of the victorious cagemen.

Presbyterians went into the lead at the end of the initial quarter, when the count was 3-2 in their favor. They strengthened their margin at the half, leading the Presentation quintet by an 8-5 tally.

Led by Morgan, scoring forward for the Catholics, the Purple quinto came out of a shooting slump and caged 11 points in the third quarter, following that performance with the garnering of six more markers in the final stanza, while holding the Church on the Hill to one hoop. Low, stringy center for the Presbyterians, topped the Green scoring column and was tied with Morgan at nine points.

Junior high school completely overwhelmed Freshman A passers by a 23-5 score in a prelude contest, but accounted for eight points for the junior high while Revetta, Green, and Monac each hooped in four markers. Smith made three for the Frosh.

Lincoln high junior girls won an easy last-half victory from Beaver high junior lasses, when the Steel City girls closed on the big end of a 21-11 count.

Score at the half was 8-7, Beaver. In the finishing periods the Mid-City forwards sank some effective shots and forced well ahead of the county seat girls.

Ranelli scored six buckets and three fouls for Midland. Smith caged two shots.

SPORT NEWS AND VIEWS

By the Sports Editor.

EAST LIVERPOOL, high school can not forever be denied a state basketball championship. Recognized as one of the best basketball towns in this section of the state, the Pottery City eventually is going to fight its way to the top, despite Dayton, Akron and Canton, perennial challengers for Buckeye scholastic honors.

Dayton Stivers probably has hogged title honors more than any other school team. They are usually always a contender. But East Liverpool has never been in the back-ground either. The Potters have been plugging away for many years and they are just bound to hit one of these days.

This year they left their mark with a host of classy opponents at Columbus. In 1916 they won the northern Ohio championship.

And on another occasion they struck again at titular honors only to be deprived of championship glory when it was almost within their grasp.

This was in 1923 when Bill Watkins, well known referee, was coaching the Blue and White. The Potters that year had a first class five in Don De Bolt and Bob Pussey at the forwards; "Slim" Bromby at center; and Dale Liebschner and "Chuck" McConville at the guards.

Sectional tourney games were played at Zanesville. The locals were off form in their first game of the meet and lost to Marietta. Seven teams were entered that year. Under rules of the tournament, two of the first round losers were drawn by lot back into the tourney. New Philadelphia and East Liverpool were selected and the Potters defeated the Philly five. They then knocked off Zanesville and turned in the biggest surprise of the event by conquering Marietta.

Later, at Columbus, the Potters defeated Bellevue but lost to Bowling Green in their second game by a few points.

O. C. Greenawalt, one of the officials in charge of the Tri-State tournament here, was in charge of the local passers at the Zanesville games, being delegated the task by Watkins whose services as referee were required at tournament games that spring.

FOUR City Baseball League players have already figuratively stepped into uniforms different from the ones they wore last year, with the season not yet under way. "Pus" Herbert and Heckathorne, third baseman and first sacker, respectively, of the Laughlin Chinas, will cavort under K. T. K. colors this year as a result of a recent deal, while their places in the West Virginia club's lineup will be filled by Bill Merchant, first baseman, and Harry Simcox, third baseman and outfielder. The trade is subject to approval of the league at its first 1928 session tonight.

THE O. & P. baseball league is somewhat out of the ordinary, as baseball leagues go. It has seven cities and only five teams, Massillon and New Castle; Youngstown and Beaver Falls are the same clubs. Massillon will play as New Castle during the week and as Massillon on Sunday. Beaver Falls will play under that name during the week and as Youngstown on Sunday. One wonders just how big a picture the O. & P. will make under this arrangement.

ROBBIE COUNTING ON TOP BERTH

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., March 27.—Annoyed by the assertion of Bert Shotton that the Phillies will finish ahead of Brooklyn this year, Manager Wilbert Robinson of the Robins says the Quakers will have to win the pennant to do it. Uncle Wilbert and his flock consider a first division berth for Brooklyn a certainty.

The Robins, resting between their engagements in the grape fruit league, were idle again today.

St. Stephens Five Bows to Christians

College Street Quint Has Chance at Title.

Defeating the St. Stephens passers last night, 56 to 51, in an overtime contest, the Christians tied with the Lutherans for second place in the Sunday school cage league and now face the possibility of a tie with the league leaders for second half honors.

The Christians are scheduled to clash with the Lutherans, first half leaders, on Thursday night. The winner then will be tied with the Methodist Protestants for the top berth and a play-off will be necessary. In the event that the Lutherans come through all along the route the season will be over. If the Christians or Methodist Protestants cop, a final series will be necessary.
